The News.

The steamer Arial brings us late foreign news. The English breadstuffs markets continue inactive, with a drooping tendency, though no important change is reported in prices. No improvement is reported in the working of the Atlantic cable. Trade has been renewed at Shanghai. At Canton the cholera was raging in the Chinese army. Measures were taken preparatory to the construction of a canal across the Isthmus of Suez. A summary of the steamer's news will be found under the telegraph head.

The Republicans have carried Minnesota.

The schooner Albion, of Oswego, is reported to have been lost in the great gale of the 7th inst., off Erie, and all hands on board perished. She was owned and insured in Oswego.

The Eastern Breadstuffs Markets were dull yesterday, with a downward tendency in prices.

The weather continues mild and pleasant.

Minnesota Republican!

MINNESOTA, like her sister States, PENNSYLVANIA, OHIO, INDIANA and IOWA, all of which voted on Tuesday last, has rebuked the BUCHANAN Administration, and repudiated sham Democracy. The St. Paul Times of Sunday last, 17th inst., claims from six to ten Republican majority in the Assembly. A U. S. Senator is to be chosen this coming winter, in place of Gen. SHIELDS, (dem.) whose term expires. Every Northern State that has thus far voted this year, has condemned the Administration. NEW YORK, ILLINOIS, MASSACHUSETTS, NEW JERSEY and WISCONSIN, give their verdicts on the 2nd of November next.—Shall not they also pronounce judgment against the PRO-Slavery Administration of JAMES BUCHANAN.

Appointment of J. Glancy Jones.

The telegraph announces the appointment of JESE GLANCY JONES as Minister to Austria! "JESE" was BUCHANAN'S right hand man in Congress, in consequence of which he suffered a most humiliating defeat at the late election in Pennsylvania, having been beaten in what has hitherto been looked upon as one of the strongest Democratic Districts in the Northern States. The President, however, received not to let him go into private life, and hence the appointment.

"It is none of their business."

The News backs up its candidate, Judge DUNN, in his non-committal policy, and commends "the Judge for having the pluck" to tell the people "it is none of their business," when questioned as to his political belief. The Convention which nominated Judge DUNN failed to adopt any platform or express their sentiments upon any of the great political questions of the day, and as a natural consequence, when he came before the people of the Second District soliciting their votes, they frequently expressed a desire to know how the Judge stood on the important questions which now agitate the country; that is, whether he endorsed the administration policy, or sided with the anti-administration wing of the party. But their enquires thus far, have only met the insulting response, "It's none of your business."

In contrast with this, the Madison Journal very appropriately remarks: Mr. WASHBURN "comes before his constituents, in the most frank and unequivocal manner, states his position on all the great questions that agitate the country, and which are involved in the Congressional contest. He recognizes the right of the people to catechise those who aspire to represent them, and the propriety of their understanding the views of candidates before voting for them.

"Vote then for C. C. WASHBURN, the tried and faithful representative, the frank, straightforward, open-hearted advocate of free labor and free institutions. These are not times when the North can afford to hazard her interests in the hands of mum candidates or dodging politicians.

Grant County Items.

During the session of the Circuit Court last week, at Lancaster, Judge DUNN found time to address the people. The Herald says he so befogged himself with ifs that it was hard to tell where he stood, but by his endorsal of the Dred Scott decision he badly disappointed his free soil democratic friends, and some "old settler" Republicans who had thought of voting for him.—J. T. MILLS replied to him at some length, and in a most conclusive style.

The Grant County Republican Convention strongly endorsed the Philadelphia Platform and the course of WASHBURN, declared their motto to be "principles, not men," expressed their belief that the question whether slavery or freedom shall rule was the great issue of the day, and that both Congress and the people of the Territory had the constitutional power to exclude slavery from the Territories, notwithstanding the contrary opinions of the Supreme Court, JAMES BUCHANAN and Judge DUNN; characterises the attempt to secure votes by appeal to "old settlers" as a kind of exclusiveness intolerable to the West, ungenerous alike to the late settler and adopted citizen.

The almost universal sentiment of that part of the State was reflected in the following resolution, unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we cordially approve the acts of our fearless and able Governor, RANDALL, in maintaining the public interests, in his general opposition to local and special legislation, in his keeping aloof from all factions, and in his favoring no class of persons at the expense of the many.

The Democrats have set up the following ticket to be knocked down, heading it with a Fillmore man:—Sheriff, J. B. Green; Register, T. L. Nash; Clerk of Board, H. S. MANN; Treasurer, J. H. Vance; Attorney, I. S. Clark; Surveyor, D. W. H. Dimmock; Coroner, D. Banfill.

MORE GERMANS WAKING UP.—A mass meeting of Germans numbering about eighteen hundred, was held in the Volks Garten, Bowery, New York, a few evenings since, to mark out for themselves a more distinct political course. Excellent speeches were made by prominent German citizens, bearing severely upon the iniquity of the Administration. Mr. GUSTAVE STAUVE said, at the close of a very able speech, "I denounce the Democrats as the enemies of Freedom, the supporters of Slavery, the foes of Free Labor, the treacherous friend of the Foreigner, whose aid they seek only to betray him!"—This was received with a thunder of long continued applause, and VICTOR PELZ followed in a speech of the same sentiment.

IOWA ELECTION.

State Republican by 5,000 Majority.

A special dispatch from Burlington, states that official and reported majorities from ten Counties, in the first Congressional district, show a Republican gain of 200, as compared with the vote of 1857, and indicate the re-election of Curtis, Republican, to Congress, by 1,000 majority.

SECOND DISTRICT.—Twelve counties show an aggregate Democratic majority on Congress of 150.

The State is Republican by 5,000 majority.—The Iowa State Democrat of the 15th says:

"The State is Republican. We have met the enemy on the open field; fought with them hand to hand, and won—are theirs."

Republican Triumph in Minnesota!

The St. Paul Times of the 17th inst., contains the following gratifying intelligence relative to the recent election in Minnesota:

Since our last returns published yesterday, we have received sufficient additional figures to justify us in expressing the belief that the Republicans have carried the State. They may not be able to control matters on joint ballot, but the majority in the House will surely compensate for the Opposition majority in the Senate, provided it should be found that such a majority exists. The Republican majority in the House cannot be far from six to ten—it may be more.

We do not feel like crowing very lustily, when the fact stares us in the face, that the Republicans, having carried the State, are to be cheated out of the reward of their well-earned victory, by Gov. Sibley, who will now find it convenient not to call the Legislature together. Well, daylight is dawning, and we have only to fight on to rid our State of those who are seeking to spread throughout the Territories the curse of Slavery, and who do not scruple at any scheme to insure their personal aggrandizement. We shall not deal in figures and facts in extenso, relative to the election, until we are able to give the official figures. It is enough to know that the Republicans have won the day.

Republican Assembly Nomination—The County Convention.

At a meeting of the Republican electors of the towns of Wauwatosa and Greenfield, held at the Honey Creek School House, on the 16th of October, 1858, WM. C. WATROS was called to the chair, and E. C. SAGE chosen Secretary.

On motion of R. STRONG, EDWIN JOHNSON was unanimously declared a candidate for member of Assembly.

A motion to appoint the following named gentlemen to attend the Republican County Convention, to be held in the city of Milwaukee, on the 23d of October, was adopted: REUBEN STRONG, F. D. WELD and C. F. ELLSWORTH, from the town of Greenfield. E. C. SAGE, CHESTER BLODGETT, and S. D. LUSCOMB, from the town of Wauwatosa.

WM. C. WATROS, Co'n.

E. C. SAGE, Sec.

LOSS OF THE SCHOONER ZENOBIA.—On Saturday afternoon the captain and crew of the Zenobia arrived at Chicago, reporting the vessel a total loss. On the evening of the 6th inst. she was driven on Point Betsey, where she became a total wreck. The Captain and crew had to cling to the wreck for three days before they could venture to make for the shore. The Zenobia left this port about the 3d with a cargo of 16,000 bushels of corn, owned by Col. B. S. SHEPARD. The vessel was owned by E. K. BRUCE, of Buffalo. The cargo was fully insured in the Buffalo Mutual, but there was only $6,000 insurance on the vessel. She was valued at $15,000.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN DUNN COUNTY.—A correspondent writing from Pepin, Dunn county, in this State, under date of October 16th, says:—"We have reliable information, this morning, that the Court House and Jail at Dunnville, Dunn county, together with all the records and books of the county, were destroyed by fire yesterday. Cause of the fire unknown."

SABBATH SCHOOL EXCURSION.—A letter which we should like to publish, had we room to do so, has been received, telling of an interesting excursion to Waupun and visit to the States Prison, which was enjoyed by the Sabbath School children of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Hustisford, about eighty in number. We wish we could hear of such happy days for good children oftener than we do.

SUSPENSION OF A DEMOCRATIC PAPER.—The last number of the Janesville Democratic Standard announces the suspension of that paper, which the editor hopes is for a short time only. The cause of suspension is pecuniary embarrassments.

The Late Terrible Explosion at Havana.

In the New Orleans Picayune of Thursday last we have the following particulars of the late terrible explosion of the naval powder magazine at Havana, as furnished by the purser of the New York mail steamer Black Warrior:

On the 29th ult., at 3½ P. M., the naval magazine at Havana, situated at the head of the harbor, containing 400,000 pounds of gunpowder, several hundred loaded shells, together with a large quantity of rockets, fireworks, &c., &c., exploded. The shock and effect, as described by the residents of the city, were truly awful. Thus far there had been found in the ruins and about the grounds 28 dead bodies, and 105 wounded, four of which died shortly after being removed to the hospital. For some moments the air was filled with all descriptions of destructive missiles, and stones, shells, &c., were projected a long distance from the building and into the bay. No damage was done to the vessels at anchor. The dead bodies of three coolies were blown through the air to the slope of Fort Atares, nearly a quarter of a mile off. There were upwards of three hundred persons employed on the new sugar warehouse in the immediate vicinity of the disaster, and among them the loss of life and limb appears to have been the greatest. Of the military guard of the magazine, consisting of a sergeant and sixteen men, only four remained. Many bodies were no doubt yet under the ruins and in the waters of the harbor. The destruction of the fine pile of sugar warehouses, some twenty buildings, several of which were finished, and others in course of construction, was complete. Nothing now remains but a mass of stones and rubbish. The concussion was so great as to destroy the gasometers, rendering the gas works for the present entirely useless; and it will require at least three months before the city can be lighted. Every residence is more or less affected by the shock and several buildings sustained great damage.—Among the number were the residence of Don Domingo de Aldama, fronting the military parade ground, the house of Don Jose Maria Bonnelly, and the edifice of the Royal Economical Society.

Havana papers to the 3d instant contain long articles in reference to this terrible catastrophe, but they add nothing of general importance to what is above given. The City Council had made arrangements for supplying the immediate necessities of the wounded by the accident.

VESSEL CAPSIZED—THE CAPTAIN LOST.—The Edward W. True, Captain Walker, a small vessel from Grand Traverse Bay to Chicago, while attempting to make Chicago harbor, last night about 12 o'clock, was capsized, and drifted toward the Cemetery, the Captain and the sailors clinging to the bottom of the vessel. They were seen by Daniel Cox, an intrepid seaman, now employed at Downer's Brewery, who went out at the risk of his own life, in a trail lake skiff, which was kept above water with difficulty, and brought the two seamen ashore, the captain having fallen off the vessel and drowned, a few moments before. The sailors were benumbed, and could not have survived much longer. They were kindly cared for by Mr. Sabberton.

Great praise is due to Mr. Cox for his noble daring. He has performed similar acts before.—Chicago Journal, of last evening.

DEATH OF RELIANCE.—This celebrated racer, whose performancies on the turf elicited the admiration of the sporting community nearly twenty years since, died at the stables of his owner, B. G. Harris, Esq., in St. Mary's county, Md., a few days ago. He was in his 23rd year.

☞ The receipts at the Buffalo Custom House last year, were $10,140,53; and the expenditures, $16,896,51, showing an excess of expenditures over receipts, of $6,756,98. In order to secure the expenditure of this sum, twenty men were employed in the office.

GRIFFIN & BRADLEY, at the foot of East Water street, are the Ticket Agents for both of these propeller lines.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.—A tri-weekly line of propellers run to Collingwood, stopping at intermediate ports, and leaving this city on Sunday, Wednesday and Friday of each week. L. D. JEROME, Agent.

Return of the Excursionists.

A very large proportion of the excursionists who left this city for St. Paul, by the La Crosse & Milwaukee R. R., on Thursday morning last, returned home yesterday afternoon; all delighted with the trip, and quite unanimous in pronouncing the excursion the most agreeable and successful affair of the kind in which they ever participated. The ride over the Rail Road; the sail up the Mississippi; the visit to St. Paul, St. Anthony, Minneapolis, Minnehaha and Fort Snelling, were all thoroughly enjoyed. The weather was delightful, the accommodations excellent and the welcome everywhere most cordial. Those who made the trip for the first time were enthusiastic in its praise; while those who have been over the ground before, found all their favorable impressions abundantly confirmed.

Our Milwaukee Light Guard formed the prominent feature of the Excursion Party, and contributed greatly to its success. At all the points on the route where they stopped, they were the observed of all observers, and elicited general admiration. At La Crosse and St. Paul they were most cordially received and sumptuously entertained. Throughout the trip they conducted themselves as became soldiers and gentlemen, and have won new laurels by their martial bearing, excellent discipline and general good conduct on the Excursion. We shall have more to say of the trip in our next.

AN ITEM.—Under this heading, the News of Sunday gave a very correct idea of the scarcity of material for a "local" to work with at present. Day after day drags on without bringing any excitement to flavor our columns with, except in politics. The comet has turned its tail upon us, and left us in the dark. We wish we might record some wonderful achievement—some noble or christian-like deed, that would make people better satisfied with the world and humanity, and feel that "life is real, life is earnest."

But if glorious and happy events obstinately refuse to transpire, it would be a relief if we could even have something evil to talk about.

"Things that but whispered, would arch the hearer's brow,
And strain his eyes in fearful ecstacy;
No matter what, so it be strange and sudden."

Nevertheless something did happen on Sunday that should be noticed and prized. It was small, for nothing great could be expected from that quarter, but it was still wonderful. None but the very few who read the News would ever know the fact, if we did not give it publicity. The News was unconscious that its article on the rarity of public items was of itself an item that would be caught up by every editor in the State who might have the patience to read so long a piece in that paper, for it was the first editorial of any kind that ever appeared in the News, which was true from beginning to end! A tender and fragrant plant springing up in a foul desert is a beautiful sight, and we wish our readers to enjoy it with us.

THE LADIES EQUESTRIAN CONTEST AT THE LATE STATE FAIR.—A great deal of dissatisfaction is expressed at the award of prizes by the Judges of the ladies equestrian contest, at the State Fair, the other day. There is hardly one of our exchanges, in the country, that has not complained of unfairness in the disposition made of the prizes. It was not expected that all could be satisfied. Undoubtedly the particular friends of each fair contestant expected that their favorite should have received the first prize, but when there is so much disappointment expressed, by persons not immediately interested, we are lead to the belief that either the contest was very close or else the Judges did not act impartially. The former probably was the case.

Miss BUTTON, of this City, it is known, received the first prize, and while all accord to her the credit of being a good rider, the general opinion appears to be, that there were others equally as skillful, if not more so, who received no prizes, and were not even noticed by the judges. A young lady who rode a roan horse without saddle or stirrup, is particularly spoken of, as one of the most graceful and fearless riders on the field, and many concluded that she must certainly be the winner of the first prize. Miss BUTTON, it is said, rode the best horse on the ground, wore a magnificent costume, and in general appearance quite eclipsed all her fair competitors. This undoubtedly had much influence upon the decision of the judges.

A UNION FESTIVAL FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE ASBURY MISSION CHURCH.—The congregations of the several Methodist Episcopal Churches in this city, have united in getting up a festival for the benefit of the Asbury Mission Church, in the Fifth Ward. The festival is to take place at Albany Hall, on Thursday evening next, and no pains will be spared to render it one of the most agreeable parties that has ever been given in our city. The edifice of the Asbury Congregation was destroyed by fire some time ago, and the other churches of the city have very generously united in this effort to relieve their sister church in the hour of need. The object is a most commendable one, and we trust that our citizens at large will second their worthy effort by attending the festival.

A QUICK TRIP FROM ST. PAUL.—The Excursionists who left St. Paul Sunday afternoon, at 2 P. M., on the fine steamer Northern Belle, Capt. HUBB, came down the river in the midst of a tremendous thunder storm, the wind blowing violently and the rain falling in torrents, all night. Nevertheless the bonnie boat reached La Crosse by 7 A. M., yesterday morning, and Conductor KIMBALL brought them thence to this city in about seven hours and a half. The running time of the whole trip, from St. Paul to this city was but little over twenty-one hours.

ARRIVAL OF AN OCEAN VESSEL.—The bark Chieftain, one of the fleet which sailed from Cleveland to Liverpool not long since, and which, it will be remembered, came so near bringing the Atlantic Telegraph enterprise to a ruinous termination, by running too close to the Agamemnon, passed the rear of our office yesterday afternoon on her way up the river. She is now taking on board a cargo of flour from the Mills.

☞ This morning CALEB WALL sells all that fine furniture, corner of Milwaukee and Knapp streets, in the brick house opposite the Catholic Convent.

The Milwaukee Excursionists at St. Paul.

The Mayor and several of the members of our Common Council, together with Company "A" of the M. L. G., and a large number of our citizens, returned yesterday, in high glee, from their excursion on the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad, to La Crosse and St. Paul. We take the following account of the reception and visit at St. Paul, from the Times, of Sunday morning:

A very large party, composed of the citizens, military and civil, of Milwaukee, arrived in this city early yesterday morning, on the occasion of the formal opening of the Milwaukee and La Crosse Railroad. The party entire, numbers about four hundred persons, among which are Editors, the Mayor, and several gentlemen of the Common Council of Milwaukee, the Milwaukee Light Guards, Capt. Starkweather, numbering eighty men, accompanied by the famous American Cornet Band of that city, besides a large number of invited guests, adding, of course, those indispensable attendants—a handsome share of ladies.

Owing to the uncertainty of the hour at which they would arrive, no arrangements worthy of mention had been made to receive them on Friday night; and the late hours at which the steamers Northern Belle and Northern Light came in, rendered it impossible for a formal reception to take place until the following (yesterday) morning. At an early hour, the citizens residing in the lower portion of the city, were startled from their slumbers by the loud booming of cannon, and many persons hurried to the levee to tender in their boats, if not by their actions, the good will of the city to a party composed of so many justly deserving the benefit of a mere hospitable reception. It was expected that the Pioneer Guards would be there to meet them in full dress, and in the entire strength of the company; but owing to some difficulty, in which we hear Capt. Acker severely censured for his conduct, only a small portion of the company were present—and to these we say all honor. The excursionists were warmly received by these, so far as it lay in their power, considering the embarrassing position in which they were placed.

The Milwaukee Light Guard, accompanied by the Pioneer boys, then marched through our principal streets, after which they proceeded to the Fuller House, where the company dispersed for an hour to prepare themselves for a full dress parade. About eleven o'clock A. M., the company were ready, and proceeded to the Capitol, where they were received by Governor Sibley, Commander-in-Chief of the Military of Minnesota, A. C. Jones, Adjutant General, George L. Becker, Quarter Master General, and Col. John S. Prince, Aid to the Commander Chief. After being reviewed by the Governor and his Staff, they were invited into the office of the State Librarian, where the well known hospitality of Gov. Sibley displayed itself in a manner well calculated to put the boys in the best possible humor. We need hardly say that they had a good time here—there was a feast of something and a flow of sparkling champagne, which called forth several hearty cheers—capped by a rousing "tiger," which the Light Guards alone know how to give, and to which a response was given by our own citizens.

It was nearly 1 o'clock when the Company left the Capitol, and proceeded again to the Fuller House, preparatory to starting for Minneapolis and Saint Anthony, via Fort Snelling and the Falls of Minnehaha. Carriages of one kind and another were furnished, and many of our citizens accompanied them there; and although up to this writing, they have not returned, we have no hesitancy in saying they will have passed a pleasant day, and one long to be remembered.

The Milwaukee Light Guards are the first regular Military Company which have ever paid us a visit from abroad; and their handsome appearance, we feel assured, will incite many young men in this city to emulate their example. Milwaukee may will be proud of such a Company—they are hard to beat. The American Cornet Band row in the same boat, and like the Guards, challenged the admiration of every one, not only on account of the music they discovered, but also of their appearance.

Several invited guests from the military of other cities were also with them. Among the editorial fraternity we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Potter, of the Daily Wisconsin, and also Gen. Enos King, of the Milwaukee Sentinel—the latter a member of the M. L. G.'s.

Last evening the Common Council gave a supper at the Fuller House to the entire party, for which an appropriation of $250 was made, at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon; besides this, a sum of $250 was made up by our citizens. The private citizens who came up with the excursion went to St. Anthony and other places yesterday morning, and returned during the latter part of the day highly pleased with their visit. But more anon. The entire party leave to day for their homes. The weather, thus far, has been delightful for the occasion.

Meeting of the Milwaukee Bar.

Agreeably to the call of the President, the Bar Association met at the Court House at 2 P. M, yesterday.

Mr. PALMER stated that a gentleman of the city, Mr. WILLIAM P. YOUNG, had recently tendered to the Bar of Milwaukee, the use of a convenient accessible room, in the new building, at the corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, to be used as a law library room, free of rent. A law had been passed by the Legislature at its last session, upon the instance of a committee of this Association, which was well adapted for the purpose of a law library organization. He thought it would be well to improve so good an opportunity of action in this direction. Mr. RYAN moved that the committee formerly appointed, should prepare an organization, upon the basis of the law passed last winter. The motion was seconded and adopted by the meeting.

Mr. EMMONS moved that a committee, before organized for that purpose, should proceed to purchase four lots in the Forest Home Cemetery, for the use of the bar, obtain a title to the same, and make all needful assessments for the payment. The motion was adopted.

Mr. RYAN said that the gentlemen of the bar could not but be aware that the term of office of the Clerk of the Circuit and County Courts is nearly expired, and that an election will speedily take place. He thought it would be unfortunate to lose so courteous and accomplished an officer as Mr. KEENAN. He would move that a committee of three be appointed by the Chair to report suitable resolutions. The motion was adopted, and the President appointed Messrs. RYAN, LYNDE and GRIDLEY as such committee, who speedily reported the following:

Whereas, The present term of office of MATTHEW KEENAN, as Clerk of the Circuit and County Courts of this county, is about to expire, and his connection with the Bench and Bar may have ended before another meeting of the Bar shall be held;

Resolved, That we cannot let the opportunity pass without testifying our high appreciation of Mr. KEENAN'S service as an officer, and his character as a gentleman. That we have found him always skillful in the complicated duties of his office, intelligent, prompt and faithful in their discharge, uniformly urbane and obliging in his department, and upright in all his actions.

Resolved, That if we are to lose Mr. KEENAN'S services in the Clerk's Office, it will be a loss of no trifling character to the Bench and Bar of this county. That the duties of the office have become like complicated machinery, not to be understood in all their varied details, without great experience; and that very few men have the patient intelligence and care to become as familiar with them as Mr. KEENAN—none without an apprenticeship of great inconvenience to the public, the suitors in the Courts, the Bench and Bar.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Bar be requested to furnish Mr. KEENAN with a copy of these resolutions and, that the President be requested to present them to the Circuit and County Courts at the earliest opportunity.

Remarks were made by Messrs. JAMES S. BROWN, DOWNER and EMMONS, approving the sentiments of the resolutions, and speaking in the highest terms of Mr. KEENAN'S competency and fidelity.

The judiciary being called on by the President as alluded to in the resolves, Judges MCARTHUR and PAINE spoke in warm and cordial terms of Mr. KEENAN and of his fitness and easiness as a clerical officer.

Mr. WINFIELD SMITH, spoke briefly to the same effect.

Mr. RYAN thought the resolves did Mr. KEENAN but simple justice. The resolves which he had drafted expressed but feebly his own feeling. The duties of the office were complicated and difficult, Mr. KEENAN had thoroughly mastered the business and performed it most exactly. His patience, good humor and thoroughness were admirable. He was also an honest man, and when a man had been exposed as Mr. KEENAN had been to temptation for so long a time, and had come out with a reputation unsullied, it was well to hold him up for an example.

In putting the motion, the President said he had known Mr. KEENAN for twenty years—ever since he was a boy, humble but worthy. He knew his worth, honesty and amiability, and he could endorse all that had been said by the other gentlemen. It was something highly to be commended in Mr. KEENAN, that he had risen above the struggles of his youth. He had discharged his official duties in an exemplary manner.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously.

The meeting was longer than any former business meeting of the bar, and the expressions of regard to Mr. KEENAN, were very warm and cordial.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS—FIRST AND SEVENTH WARDS.—The Democrats of the First and Seventh Wards held their Assembly caucus yesterday, and nominated FERDINAND SCHMELLING. What we spoke of yesterday as the caucus, it seems, was only a primary meeting. There was pretty sharp figuring amongst the "Hadley men" to secure the nomination for their candidate, but they were badly beaten. The votes polled were as follows: FERDINAND SCHMELLING, 279; ALANSON SWEET, 214; GEO. W. CLASEN, 127; E. MAHONEY, 86. We understand that Mr. MAHONEY withdrew his name from the caucus in the early part of the contest.

THE MADISON CADETS.—This company of young soldiers, was organized on Friday night last, and twenty five of the Madison boys immediately became members, and elected E. E. ELLSWORTH, their Captain. It is expected that fifteen additional members will soon be added. The name of the Company is "The Cadets of the Governor's Guard."

ARRIVAL OF THE SCHOONER H. L. LANSING.—The schooner H. L. Lansing, which sprung a leak during the recent gale, near the South Manitous, arrived here yesterday, with her cargo, in safety, a steam pump having been sent to her assistance, and the leak made good. The Lansing brought to this port 250 tons of coal and a quantity of tile roofing for the new Warehouse on the Menomonee.

Popular Sovereignty.

The Sentinel speaking of Messrs. Potter, Washburn and Billinghurst, says: "They are all inflexibly opposed to the humbug of Popular Sovereignty." Are the people opposed to popular sovereignty? Do they think that the right of the people to determine for themselves, at the ballot-box, the character of their own domestic institutions, is a humbug? Are the people disgusted with self-government?—News.

We expect nothing of the News, during the present campaign, but a continuation of its usual system of fraud and misrepresentation. Truth and fairness form no part of the modern democratic creed. In the quotation which heads this paragraph the News suppresses all but the first few words of the sentence taken from the Sentinel, which of course quite distorts our meaning—Here is what we said, speaking of Messrs. POTTER, WASHBURN and BILLINGHURST:

They are all inflexibly opposed to the humbug of Popular Sovereignty, which, in conjunction with the Dred Scott decision, carries slavery into all the Territories of the United States, and prevents the people from excluding it therefrom, however much they may be opposed to the peculiar "institution." They also maintain that slavery is a local, not a national institution, that it belongs to each State in itself to say whether it will permit the existence of Slavery within its boundary or not, and that Congress has the power, and should exclude Slavery from the Territories.

"Popular Sovereignty," says the News, "is nothing more or less than the right of the people to govern themselves, and the Sentinel declares that this is a "humbug," and that Messrs. POTTER, WASHBURNE, and BILLINGHURST, are all inflexibly opposed to it."

Popular Sovereignty as interpreted by the Democracy, is very far from being "the right of the people to govern themselves," and we have the proof at hand. The News and the three Democratic nominees for Congress in this State, unqualifiedly endorse the Dred Scott decision. It is the main plank of their platform. Popular Sovereignty, the News boasts, gives the people of the Territories "the right to form their own domestic institutions in their own way." Now mark the "humbug." The Dred Scott decision says in substance, that slavery exists, or may be carried into all the Territories, by virtue of the constitution of the United States, and that the people of a Territory, though unanimous in their opposition to the "institution," have no right to prohibit it, prior to the formation of a State Constitution.

There we have "popular sovereignty" declaring on one hand that the "people of the Territories have a right to form their institutions in their own way," while the Dred Scott decision, which the Democracy endorse as the law of the land, says that "slavery exists in the Territories by virtue of the constitution of the United States," and that the people have no right to prohibit it prior to the formation of a State constitution. It is not, therefore, "popular sovereignty" a humbug—a sham? It is a mere catch-penny, as it were, to entrap the unwary into the belief that it gives the people the right to determine for themselves what their institutions shall be, subject to the constitution, while the Dred Scott decision, which establishes slavery in the Territories whether the people will it or not, the Democracy claim is a true interpretation of the constitution of the United States. Popular sovereignty can have no application to the States, because it is not denied that the people of each State have the power of making their own laws, subject to the restrictions of the constitution or fundamental law of our country.

But the Republicans claim that Congress has power to make all needful rules and regulations for the Government of the Territories of the United States, and such was the belief of the fathers of our Country, and every American statesman who has risen to any eminence until within the past few years. Do the people of Wisconsin endorse such dastardly perversions of the Federal Constitution as Dred Scott-ism and Popular Sovereignty? They will be called upon to render their decision on the 2d day of November next. Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana have already given theirs!

TERRIFIC STORM AT NEW ULM, MINNESOTA.—We learn from the St. Paul papers, that on the 1st inst, a most terrific storm visited the village of New Ulm, some thirty miles west of St. Peter, on the Minnesota river. It lasted but a few minutes, but in that time six buildings were utterly destroyed. The contents of the Post Office were blown out, and scattered in every direction. A stage coach was taken up, carried off, and broken to pieces.

COMING TO THE RESCUE.—JOHN MITCHELL, is to remove to Washington, at the beginning of the next Congress, and thenceforward will there publish his Southern Citizen, an ultra villainous Pro-Slavery organ.

☞ About six weeks ago, Carol Shoemaker, of Old Washington Court House, Alabama, was married to Miss Nixon, and about four weeks after the publication of his marriage, appeared a reward of $400 for his arrest for poisoning his wife.

A Great Ado About Nothing.

Being hard run for ammunition just at present the News keeps up a continual fire of blank cartridges at the Republican nominees for Congress in this State. It is now making a great ado about the fact that Messrs POTTER, WASHBURNE, BILLINGHURST and DOOLITTLE voted for the CRITTENDEN bill which provided for the submission of Lecompton to the people of Kansas, and is endeavoring by all manner of contortions to construe this into an endorsement of that villainous constitution.—In that vote we need not say the object of our representatives was to procure the submission of the villainy to the decision of the people of Kansas, knowing well that they would crush the head of the monster. The great body of Republican members of Congress voted with our representatives for the passage of the Crittenden bill, but were opposed by the Administration Democracy and the News on the ground that Congress should adopt the Lecompton constitution without submitting it to the people. The bill was defeated and the News rejoiced greatly at the result, and pronounced it a "Democratic Victory." It should be remembered, however, that the News viewed everything through Post Office goggles at that time.

The Crittenden bill having been defeated, the Republicans, and a few conscientious Democrats stood firm in their opposition to the Lecompton villainy. The Democracy, having become convinced that it would be an impossibility to adopt the Lecompton Constitution, they procured the introduction of the infamous English bill, which embodied the principle that while forty thousand inhabitants would be sufficient to form a slave State, it would require ninety-three thousand inhabitants to form a free State. A few of the Democrats who had hitherto stood by the Republicans in their opposition to the outrageous measure, becoming alarmed lest their rebellion to the party might be injurious to their own interests, proved traitors, and the bill passed. Again, the Democracy, the News included, were jubilant, and crowed loudly at the success of what they termed "Democratic principles."—The people of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, have just expressed their opinion of these "Democratic principles." The News is welcome to all the capital it can make out of the vote of Messrs, POTTER, WASHBURN, BILLINGHURST and DOOLITTLE to submit the Lecompton Constitution to the people of Kansas.

The Paraguay Expedition.

One of the most prominent movements of our Government at present, is the expedition being fitted out against Paraguay. We believe most people have but an indistinct recollection of the difficulties between that little power and ourselves, and it may be interesting to many of our readers if we give a general rehearsal of them.

In the first place, LOPEZ, the despotic dictator of Paraguay, expressed a strong desire that Americans should come to Paraguay, introduce machinery and industrial improvements, and invest capital in agricultural and other mechanical operations. To bring about this he issued a manifesto offering great inducements in the way of bounties, land grants, monopolies and guarantees, to such colonists as would settle in the country, to reform its industry and develop its resources. This was in 1845.

Induced by such flattering prospects, certain American capitalists, mechanics and scientific men, formed themselves into a body, called the United States and Paraguay Navigation Company, whose adventure embraced not only the description of enterprise implied by its title, but all manner of domestic improvements and industry, establishing the same in Paraguay.

LOPEZ at first smiled upon the Company, and they commenced extensive operations. They introduced steamers, machinery, and the best agricultural implements, bought lands, built factories, opened new trade, and were floating upon the high tide of success.

Then it occurred to LOPEZ, or perhaps he had meditated upon it from the beginning, that American enterprise had taken firm root in his country, and would flourish just as well under the management of Paraguians as Americans.—So he resolved to violate his promises and drive the Americans out of the land. This he accomplished by secretly annoying them, causing them to be interfered with by mobs, and attacked by ruffians in the streets. The company having unwittingly interfered with some of his own choice monopolies and sources of gain, afforded him a pretext for seizing upon their factories, withdrawing the privileges extended to them, and denying the legality of their land purchases. The company were soon driven to suspend operations, and LOPEZ proceeded to confiscate the property of the corporation, under the pretence of reimbursing himself for a loan of $10,000 made to the managers. Thus the Paraguay enterprise was treacherously extinguished, and for that wrong, indemnification is soon to be demanded, in a manner that will doubtless bring LOPEZ to his senses.

Another insult that calls loudly for redress, is that thrown in our faces by Paraguay in 1855, when the Water Witch was fired into from the fort of Itapiru. Though she gallantly returned the fire, she was obliged to retreat down the river Parana, with one man killed and several wounded. The Water Witch was there to make a survey, authorized by our government, of the River Parana, the jurisdiction of which stream is divided between Paraguay and the Argentine government. A license to perform that important work was readily granted by the latter government, but refused by the former, and Lieut. PAGE resolved to proceed upon the sanction of one party. One of the objects of this expedition is to secure the free navigation of the Parana and other rivers, as far as Paraguay controls them, for all American vessels, whether naval or mercantile.

Terrible Hurricane—Several Persons Killed.

On Wednesday evening last, a portion of the country was traversed by a hurricane, the most severe that has visited us for many years. The most serious effects were experienced near the village of Time, almost 8 miles south-west of this place. Many of our readers will remember a large brick house, some half mile west of the village, on the Athas road, known as the "Howland House." That house is now a heap of ruins, having been blown over by the storm, three persons instantly killed, and several others badly injured. We have learned no details of the calastrophe.

On the same evening the house of Mr. Willsey, in the vicinity of this place, was struck by lightning, which came down the stairway, demolishing the banisters, and doing much other damage, but injuring no one, although Mrs. Willsey was standing in the door, within six feet of the stair case.

We learn that another house was struck by lightning, about the same time, but have not been able to gather any reliable particulars.

From the Cass Co. Times, 14th.

About 4 o'clock Wednesday evening, the 5th inst., a terrible storm of wind passed through this county, tearing up everything in its path.—It began about four miles west of town and passed in a direction a little north of east, and passed within one mile of town. Considerable damage was done to the farms on the prairie. But its greatest violence was after it reached the timber. In the barrens, we learn some houses were blown to pieces, but we have heard of no one getting seriously hurt. In the barrens, it blew down a blacksmith shop, and scattered tongs, sledge-hammers, etc., from 50 to 100 yards from the shop.

Fortunately the storm did not pass through a thickly settled part of the country; otherwise there must have been great loss both of life and property. It tore down trees like wisps of straw, and on some farms, tore up and blew off the standing crop of corn.

MYSTERIES OF THE RUSSIAN COURT.—An extraordinary statement is made in the St. Petersburg journals: In demolishing a wall in the apartments of the Hereditary Grand Duke, in what is called the Great Palace, in that city, the skeleton of a woman was found, still covered with fragments of clothing, which fell to dust upon being exposed to the air. There is not the slightest tradition, it is added, to show who the woman was nor why she was closed up in the wall.

Billinghurst and Larrabee in Conjunction—First and Last Principles—The Third District all Right.

OSHKOSH, Oct. 15, 1858.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Last evening, in company with about forty of the citizens of our city, your correspondent made a pilgrimage to Fond du Lac, to hear the discussion appointed at that place, between the rival candidates for Congress in this District. Amory's Hall was well filled at an early hour, with an audience of probably one thousand people, of all parties. By arrangement between the speakers, Mr. BILLINGHURST was to speak one hour, LARRABEE to reply one hour and fifteen minutes, BILLINGHURST to have the closing speech of fifteen minutes.—Mr. BILLINGHURST was suffering from four days' illness, and came on to the stand looking pale and feeble, but determined to do justice to the occasion and the principles which he represents. After alluding to the voice from Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, which came over the electric wires greeting to the people of Wisconsin, and expecting a responsive echo at our election this Fall, Mr. BILLINGHURST exhausted his time in a clear, forcible, and eloquent discussion of the positions occupied by the Democratic party and his competitor, contrasting their actions with their professions, stating and illustrating the positions occupied by himself and the Republican party of the Third District, and propounding certain questions to Judge LARRABEE, upon which the people of the District wished to understand his position, to wit: Whether he believed in the constitutionality of the existing Fugitive Slave LAW; whether he endorsed Lecompton, or the English Bill, and whether he sided with BUCHANAN or DOUGLAS.

Judge LARRABEE did not complain on this occasion, that he did not know what to say because he did not know where BILLINGHURST stood. On the contrary he complained that his time was too limited to treat all the topics raised properly. Nearly half an hour of his time was exhausted in an endeavor to prove that the Democratic party of this country were not opposed to appropriations for rivers and harbors, and claimed that PIERCE vetoed the appropriation to the St. Clair Flats, because it was coupled with other appropriations for objects not of National importance, conveniently forgetting, as BILLINGHURST reminded him in the closing speech, that PIERCE afterwards vetoed an appropriation for the same object, when disconnected with any other, and was sustained in that veto by the Democracy in Congress. The Judge then proceeded to discuss what he called the Slavery Question, and exhausted most of his time in a scientific exposition of the disparaty of the races, in which he arrived at the very startling and original conclusion, that we should not wish our daughters to marry negroes. He said that intellect predominated in the white race, and the affections in the black race. He did not draw the inference, but left it to suggest itself to the audience, that therefore our race should be masters, and the other slaves. He then seemed to be laboring under the impression that LINCOLN and TOM CORWIN were his competitors in this District, instead of CHARLES BILLINGHURST, and read some extracts from their speeches, and pitched into them in handsome style, with a seeming intention to show that they were not good Republicans.

Having exhausted his time, the Judge suddenly remembered that he had not answered the questions propounded in the opening, and which Mr. B. had written out on a sheet of paper, that he might not overlook any of them, and courteously proposed to leave them unanswered rather than to encroach upon the time of his competitor. Mr. BILLINGHURST and the audience, however, readily consented to extend the time to allow him to answer, which he did in the shortest possible manner.

On the Fugitive Slave Law, he read an extract from a speech delivered by somebody claiming to be a Republican, at some time in which the speaker admitted that Congress might frame and pass a Fugitive Slave Law which would be constitutional, but he expressed no opinion of his own. He would not have voted for Lecompton, because he thought it was not understood by the people of Kansas that the Convention was to have the right to send a Constitution to Congress without submitting the whole of it to a vote of the People. He would not have voted for the English bill, because he did not think it was a fair bill. He would not have voted for the Crittenden-Montgomery amendment, because he did not believe that Congress had the power to send a Constitution to the people of a Territory for their acceptance or rejection. So it appears that the Judge would have been an embodied negative upon the Kansas question if he had been in Congress at the last session, and he said, indeed, that he was not a BUCHANAN democrat, nor a DOUGLAS democrat, but a National democrat, that he would support the Administration in Democratic measures, reserving to himself the right of individual judgment and action. Verily, if Judge LARRABEE is elected he is likely to constitute a third faction of the Democracy upon the Territorial question.

Mr. BILLINGHURST consumed the few minutes of his closing speech, in a scathing and eloquent review of the positions taken (and dodged) by his opponent. His after bit, exposure after exposure, of the fallacy and shallowness of those positions, brought down the house in repeated storms of applause, and the Republican part of the audience dispersed, better than ever satisfied with the man who has, and will continue, as faithfully to represent the third district of Wisconsin.

The collision brought out both of the speakers in their best style, and neither party can complain that the fight is not being gallantly maintained by their chosen standard bearers.

BILLINGHURST is earnest, forcible, and talks to the point every time, in well chosen language and with a compact logic that leaves few points open to attack.

LARRABEE is fluent, eloquent, and sophistical, but too theatrical in action, and not sufficiently versed in the details of political history, to meet a man so thoroughly posted as his antagonist.—BILLINGHURST has hosts of warm friends in the district and their number is increasing with every day of the canvass. I think they will give a good account of themselves in November.

REPORTER.

From the St. Paul Times, 14th.

Bloody Fight Between Two Postmasters.

A terrible affray took place at Columbus on Tuesday last, between J. F. Howard, Postmaster at Howard Lake, and John Klerner, Postmaster at Columbus, in which the former was shot with a revolver in the hands of the latter, and it was thought, mortally wounded. From what we have been able to learn, it appears that an old grudge has existed between the parties for some time past, and on Tuesday last, they got into a dispute about election matters, when Howard, who was drunk at the time, drew a knife on Klerner and was about to stab him, when Klerner, in self-defence, we are told, drew a revolver and shot Howard, the ball taking effect in a vital part.—Howard immediately fell, and was taken up, as was thought, in a dying condition. Medical aid was promptly summoned, but from last accounts we learn that he cannot survive. Howard has a wife and family. He is said to have been a desperate man, of a quarrelsome disposition, and one or two indictments are pending against him for attempts on the lives of others. Klerner immediately surrendered himself into the hands of the law.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—On Sunday last a son of Henry Sharpe, of this place, met with a terrible accident in the following manner. He with several other boys was riding upon a handcar on the railroad about one mile east of this village, when one of the boys by some means caused him to lose his ballance, and in the endeavor to save himself from falling, he grasped the wheel of the car, upon which a band was run, connecting with a shaft below. His arm was instantly drawn under this band, and torn nearly off at the elbow joint. The arm was so badly mangled that immediate amputation was necessary, and the operation was performed by Dr. John Spencer, of Westfield, N. Y., who happened to be here on the day of the accident. We learn that the lad is doing well.—Whitewater Register, Oct. 16.

From the N. Y. Tribune, 6th

Light on a Dark Subject.

The affidavit of one of the sailors of the Haidee, the vessel lately sunk off Montauk Point, throws considerable light on the way in which the slave trade is carried on. This vessel sailed from New York in February last, commanded by a Capt. Whitney, and with the reputed owner on board, one Bontelle, a Portuguese, bound for Gibraltar, to which port she seems to have carried a cargo. She had besides the captain and mate, cook and steward, twelve men before the mast, and six passengers, who seem, however, to have had nothing to do with the enterprise, as they left the ship at her first port.—From Gibraltar she proceeded to Cadiz, there took in provisions and sailed nominally, for St. Michael's, in the Azores, but really for the west coast of Africa, having first taken on board two Portuguese, named Thomas and Viera, who seem to have been partners or were interested in the voyage.

Arriving on the coast, Viera left the ship with letters. After three hours, Viera sent word for her to proceed to sea, which she did, cruising about for forty days, during which time she landed at an island and took in water. She then returned to her post on the coast; lay there a single day and night. The next morning took on board a cargo of eleven hundred and thirty-three or four negroes, and sailed in the afternoon of the same day for Cuba. She arrived and anchored off Cardenas one afternoon, having lost some two hundred negroes on the voyage, and the same evening two Spaniads came on board and made arrangements for landing the survivors, which was effected early the next morning by two boats from the shore.

The three Portuguese, who seem to have been at the head of the enterprise, and the Captain, then went on shore, having first paid off the hands, leaving the vessel in charge of the first mate, one Macomber, who told the crew she was cleared for New Orleans. They went to sea at once, but the next day the mate told the men he had no papers, and asked what they thought it was best to do. They left it to him. He then sailed for Long Island, which they made in ten days, and when off Montauk Point the ship was scuttled, and after dark was sunk about five miles from the shore. Seven of the crew—five Portuguese, an Italian, and a Spaniard—landed at Montauk Point. The mate and the rest appear to have landed elsewhere on the coast.

The mate, who appears to be a New Bedford man, is under arrest and likely to suffer the penalty of his crime, and it is to be hoped that the light thrown on this transaction may lead to the punishment of other parties concerned in it. If the Governor-General of Cuba has the least wish to do it, he would have no difficulty in finding the negroes landed; but for them we suppose he has already pocketed his doubloon a head, and will give himself no further trouble.

BISHOP POTTER OBJECTS TO LOLA MONTEZ'S OFFER OF ASSISTANCE TO HIS CHURCH.—There are rumors of serious trouble between Bishop Potter, Rev. Ralph Hoyt, and no less a personage than Madame Lola Montez. Rev. Mr. Hoyt's Church of the Good Shepherd, in New York, was blown down by the equinoctial gale of last spring, and he is now endeavoring to raise the wind to rebuild it, by subscriptions from all who are willing to lend a hand.

Lola, it seems, has volunteered to devote the proceeds of a lecture on Rome to the fund, and the Rev. Dr. Hoyt has made grateful acknowledgment of the gracious offer. His parishioners, however, are said to be greatly scandalized and have even him notice that he must drop Lola and her lecture. The provisional bishop, it is alleged "seconds the motion," and warns the rector not to touch the money. Lola, however, is determined not to be shoved off the track in this manner.

She declares her determination to lecture, and says:

"To my lecture on Rome, I shall add a postscript in relation to anti-Christ and anti-American bigotry and intolerance, which may, also, as it appears, be used to rob the poor and divest man of his natural rights. With pity for the poor, and many prayers for the Sinners in Zion, I am your obedient servant.

LOLA MONTEZ."

SUDDEN DEATH OF A STRANGE MAN IN PHILADELPHIA.—On Tuesday night a man, who registered his name as "E. Pope, New York," took lodgings at the Girard House. He was seen at four o'clock yesterday afternoon walking about, but at five o'clock was found lying dead upon the floor of his room. The coroner held an inquest when it appeared that he died from natural causes. As the initials "J. A. M." were marked upon the arm of deceased, it is believed that the name f Pope was an assumed one. His trunk and wearing apparel are marked with the initials given above. The trunk of the deceased was examined this morning by the coroner.—From papers found in it, it is believed that his proper name is Monsier, and that he was a captain on a Lake Erie steamboat. There was a bill dated July, 1858, made out in the name of Captain Monsier, for board at the City Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio. There was also a bill for freight on the New York and Erie Railroad, from Dunkirk to New York. The deceased was a large man.—Phil Bulletin, Oct. 8th.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.—The heavy gale on Thursday last, brought the steamer Morgan L. Martin into our port in a sorrying looking condition. Her guards and wheel-house were badly injured by contact with a barge which she had in tow, her smoke stack stood at an angle of forty-five degrees, and on the whole, she looked like a returned soldier after a hard fought battle. The Aquila got lost in the dark and fog on the Lake, Friday night; but fortunately brought up at Black Wolf just before daylight, minus wood and steam. The Pioneer sprang aleak last week and was detained in port in consequence until Tuesday of this week. She is again on duty, and to all appearances is making up for lost time.—Neenah Conservator.

STRENGTH AND HEALTH RESTORED.

Mr. JOHN DAVIDSON, living ten miles above Pittsburgh on the Pennsylvania Canal, says:—"When I commenced taking Beerhave's Holland Bitters, I could hardly walk Now, I enjoy excellent health."

HEADACHE AND DEBILITY.

Mr. Silas J. Lisenbe, of Birmingham, says:—"I have found in Beerhave's Holland Bitters a remedy for Headache and Debility. My wife has also used it with the greatest benefit."

Mr. A. S. Nicholson, of Pittsburgh, also remarks that he has experienced much relief from its use for head-ache.

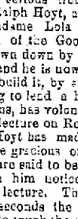
LEA & PERRINS'
Celebrated Worcestershire Sauce!!

PRONOUNCED BY CONNOISSEURS TO BE THE ONLY "GOOD SAUCE," AND APPLICABLE TO EVERY VARIETY OF DISH.



EXTRACT OF A LETTER from a MEDICAL GENTLEMAN at Madras, to his brother at WORCESTER, May, 1851.

"Tell LEA & PERRINS that their SAUCE is highly esteemed in India, and is, in my opinion, the most palatable as well as the most wholesome sauce that is made."

Extensive Fraud.

The only Medal awarded by the Jury of the New York Exhibition for Foreign Sauces, was obtained by LEA & PERRINS for their WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE—the world-wide fame of which has led to numerous FOREGNERS, purchasers are requested to see that the names of LEA & PERRINS are upon the Wrapper, Label, Stopper and Bottle. LEA & PERRINS will proceed against any one infringing either by manufacturing or vending spurious Sauce, and have instructed their correspondents in various parts of the world to advise them of any infringements.

Wreck of the Osprey.

BY HOMER.

The night was dark; the howling wind
Swept o'er Ontario's bosom, and her mad waters
Lashed the lossing bark The snail was torn
And trailing in the sea, and yet louder roared
And laughed the mocking blast. Well might in port;
A fear had left the tortured brain; but soon, alas!
Terror again seized the crew. She struck!—
With falling masts and shattered hull, she struggled
In the foaming waters, and in the dead hour of night
Three souls to eternity were sent. The moon—
A brave and faith ul man—was then alive!
Down from his giddy height he came, only to be swallowed
By his loved element. A fathers heart was wrung
With fears, as he, half frantic, bade a loving wife
To follow, while he would bear their darling child
Beyond the reach of danger. He seized it with his teeth,
And he, with wife and child, were soon upon the pier
And then the fatal wave swept o'er them.
From his firm hold the child was torn, and that mother's Grasp was insufficient for the wave. She sunk,
And with her darling child, lies 'neath the billow,
Sleeping that sleep which knows no waking.
Till every sea gives up its dead.

Ages will pass away. In the lapse of time
Many will forget the horrors of that night.
Age, even now, by some, is scarce remembered;
But one there is who never can forget. Deep in his Breast is lodged a pang. Dear to him as life, [heart,
Were his wife and child. Time cannot heal his wounded
Nor blot from his memory their loving natures.
Sad and alone he meditates. His stout heart yields,
As he calls to mind the terrors of that night.
When wife—child—and mate, perished 'neath the rushing wave.

Rest, loved ones, till the trump shall sound;
Then ye shall rise and to thy Father's house be summoned,
And there with husband, father, brother, child and friend,
Spend a long eternity, where parting is unknown.
OSWEGO, October 9, 1858.

From the New Orleans Picayune.

Love, Lunacy and Luck, or $20,000 on the Way of an Alligator's Tail.

We have heard in our time a good many tough fish stories, and among others that of the "strange fish," recently caught at Chicot Pass, in this State, which "appeared to be a cross between the alligator-gar and shark," and had in his stomach $3,17 in change, together with a stout bowie knife, a revolving pistol, and other articles of a fillibustering character.

That many of these tales were piscatory fictions, we have always held since our arrival at man's estate, and now that truth is considerably stranger than fiction, we shall proceed with due soberness, to show.

A few days ago Jarvis Wright was one of the shrewdest and best "traders" of the Choctaw Nation. In early life he had left the granite hills of New England and wended his way towards the setting sun. His money making instinct swere pretty strongly developed, and in the race for wealth he forgot the strong affectional wants of his nature, and so, while growing rich he grew old, and was known throughout the nation as the "rich old bachelor."

Now it so happened that in things theological the heart of Jarvis, during his wanderings and money-gatherings, became hardened, and in matters of religious faith he was voted heterodox. In fact, he was almost as heretical as the heathen Choctaw, with whom it was his boast to drive skillful "trades," and for whose spiritual benefit missionaries were sent out annually by the Heaven-aiding Christians of the North.

Among the missionaries who visited the Choctaw wilds during the year 185-, there was one who had a daughter whom he loved passing well. Jarvis saw her, and he, too, soon loved her with no common love. It was, indeed, strange to witness the effect of the tender passion on that hardened unbeliever. Time, which was supposed to have blunted and almost deadened all the finer sensibilities of human organism, had been only concentrating their essential force, even as the spirit in a cider barrel is concentrated and strengthened by the frosts which render its exteriors cold and icy. So the love of Jarvis, in its wild vehemence, was a riddle to the men and maidens of the Choctaw tribe, and even the traders wondered.

Jarvis in love! So strange was the idea as to be considered ridiculous, and most of his old friends concluded that his brain was getting turned. And so, as the diverse fates often do have it, Jarvis' angel proved unkind. The richly freighted bark of his hopes was shipwrecked, and a "rooted sorrow" settled on his soul. Their daughter of the missionary! She never for a moment thought that her mission was to wed the rough and heretical, though rich old bachelor, while younger and more attractive gallants were sueing for the favor of a smile. She refused him and he became incontinently crazed, and moped and wandered, still talking about her.

At length his friends concluded to bring him to this wayward city of New Orleans, where several of his relatives reside, and after spending a few months there, the demented lover began to be in some measure forgetful of his grief. Occasionally, indeed, he would be as sane as any man in existence, but with the changes of an hour, his fit of love lunacy would return, and he would be as wild and wandering as ever.

As he was perfectly harmless, even when the fit was strongest upon him, he was transferred to a plantation at Terre Bœuf, where he was allowed the privelege of hunting. And in due time hunting alligators among the bayous and lagoons became the favorite pastime of the love-lorn Jarvis, and it was hoped that eventually he would wholly forget how unsuccessful he had been hunting for a wife. But now a new monomania seemed to seize him. Of killing alligators he became tired, but to catch and tame one was his new idea, the mission of his life. He thought that if he could only catch and tame a live alligator, the star of his fortune would again rise in the ascendant, and in the amphibious creature he would find a "guide, philosopher and friend."

With all the "method" of madness he set about the realization of his wild idea; and one day, about six weeks or so ago, he captured a juvenile monster of the class he sought, and commenced at once to cultivate with it a kindly social intimacy. No more did he visit the distant bayous; for, to the wants of his new found friend, he devoted all his time and attention. Scarcely, indeed, did he speak to any one else; but when he did, it would be the same parrot phrase—

"The man that's lucky enough to catch and tame a live alligator, can draw a prize in the Havana lottery!"

This he would repeat, not only to the people of the house where he resided, but to his alligatorship a thousand times, and a thousand times again.

After several days' consultation with his scaly friend, Jarvis determined, one fine morning, to visit the city, buy a lottery ticket, and prove his luck. So he engaged a passage for himself and alligator on the Mexican Gulf Railroad cars and came. After arriving, he went straightway to a mercantile house, where his money is deposited, drew $10, and commenced his search around the city for a ticket that his saurian counsellor would be satisfied with. Long and weary was the search. To a hundred shops the alligator was carried, and the wares of a hundred ticket venders were submitted to him before he manifested his approbation by an approving wag of his caudle appendage. As soon however, as the ticket with the mystic numbers was displayed, the mysterious reptile's eye brightened, and tail wagged wisely. And Jarvis interpreted the cabalistic wag as a sign to buy, and forthwith he bought the ticket and went home rejoicing.

Two days afterward, the drawing tableau, of the Havana Lottery arrived, and, strange as it may appear, the ticket selected by the approving wag of the alligators' tail was down for the $20,000 prize. The story may appear improbable, but it is no more strange than true, as several respectable merchants on Carondelet street, who are familiar with the facts, and the members of the commercial firm of Camp street, where the money has since been deposited, can attest.—Indeed, we have the story from the lips of one nearly related to the unlucky yet lucky Jarvis. Nor did the luck of the alligator hunter end with the drawing of the prize. Recently, as is well-known, exchange on Havana has been commanding a handsome premium, and Jarvis, through one of his relatives, received for his ticket not only the $20,000 it called for, but a premium of $750 besides.

Who will not hereafter say that the tail of an alligator is not a thing of wisdom? With this philosophic query our tale shall end.

A CARD TO THE "LADIES."
Dr. Duponco's Golden Periodical Pills.
FOR FEMALES.

The combination of ingredients in Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills are perfectly harmless. They have been used in the private practice of old Dr. Duponco for over thirty years, and thousands of ladies can testify to their great and never failing success in almost every case, in correcting irregularities, relieving painful and distressing menstruation, principally at the change of life. From five to ten pills will cure that common, yet dreadful complaint, the Whites. Nearly every lady in the land suffers from that complaint. The above pill has permanently cured thousands, and will cure you if you use them. They cannot harm you, on the contrary they remove all obstructions, restore nature to its proper channel, and invigorate the whole system. Ladies, whose health will not permit an increase of family, will find these pills a successful preventative. Persons females or those supposing themselves, are cautioned against using these pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief in health—otherwise these pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box. Price—$1 per Box.
H. BOSWORTH & SONS,

They will supply the trade at Proprietor's prices, and furnish circulars, and show cards. Sold also by H. Pease, 21-193 Fair Water street; J. M. Morris, 205, Jno. E. Terry, 9 Spring-St., and C. H. Gardner & Co., 19 Public St. "Ladies" by enclosing $1,00 to H. Bosworth & Sons, or either of the above Agents, can have the Golden Pills sent to any part of the County (post paid) by mail.

N. B.—Be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills, and remember, they are not a secret nostrum, every Agent is given the receipt composing the Pills, and they will tell you they are the best and safest Pill for Females, ever introduced, since the science of Medicine dawned upon the world. sept21-st h2-71d1w2w.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In answer to the numerous letters addressed to me on the subject of the Mustang Liniment, I would say that I have had no connection with that article for several years. It was invented by me, and while put up under my control and supervision, was universally accepted by the public, as the best liniment in the world. In 1855 I sold out my interest in it to other parties, and since that time it has passed through the hands of several persons most of whom have been so unscrupulous as to manufacture it of inferior and cheaper articles, and thus to counterfeit the value of as a medical remedy, trusting for success in selling to its former highly established reputation. Its present proprietors have gone so far as to substitute other articles in its composition for those which gave it its virtues. The Mustang Liniment now vended possesses no one of the distinguishing characteristics of the genuine article, as it was originally invented and manufactured by me. These parties, to crown themselves with infamy, have dared their worthless and injurious article on the public, use my name as a sponsor, calling it "Brags"." Mustang Liniment, and would impose upon the public to believe of any other Brags Liniment as an imposition. They do this with a view of exciting a prejudice against "BRAGG'S ARCTIC LINIMENT," an article more recently loved ed by me, and possessing all the virtues of the original Mustang, with some improvements—the result of experience and later discoveries—and manufactured by Bragg & Burrowes, which firm is composed of my son, Oliver T. Bragg, and myself. This article is superior in many respects to the Mustang, when it was put up pure and in good faith, and is immeasurably superior to the article now vended as the Mustang Liniment. It is also the only Liniment manufactured in which my name is appended by my authority or with my consent. In conclusion, I cannot hold myself responsible for any of the evil results of using the Mustang Liniment now vended, and especially under the public declarer of any connection with its preparation or manufacture.
Respectfully, A. M. BRAGG, M. D.

R. R. R.

On the 1st day of September, 1858, Mr. Charles Randolph called at the R. R. R. office, and stated that for ten years he had not enjoyed a single meal. He had not, for five years, had a natural discharge from his bowels; but was obliged to resort to injections, &c. He was pale, haggard and thin. We ordered Radway's Regulator, one each night, and Radway's Resolvent three times per day. On the eighth of September he called upon us. He was so altered that we knew him not.

His appetite is good—his digestion easy—his skin moist and healthy—his step elastic and buoyant—his body vigorous, and his eye indicates a man of health and energy.

For Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Difficulties of the Urethra and Bladder, Radway's Regulator and Renovating Resolvent are a quick and a positive cure. For all Ashes and Pains, for Neuralgia and Rheumatism, for Nervous and Bilious Complaints, Radway's Ready Relief is quick and efficient. In five minutes' time after its application, the patient is free from pain.

R. R. R. is sold by C. Harrington, Bosworth & Son, L. F. Lane, and J. H. Tyson, Milwaukee, and by Druggists everywhere.

DR. KNAPP,
RECENTLY OF N. Y., may be consulted at his Rooms, Walker House, Milwaukee, the first week in every month, commencing Nov. 1, in regard to all diseases, which he treats with unprecedented success. He cures chronic cases of diseases, which have been pronounced incurable by the Medical Faculty generally, such as Nervous and Neuralgic Affections, Diseases of Women, all forms of Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Constipation Skin Diseases, Cancerous and Tumorous Affections, including Tumors, Consumption, Rheumatism, Paralysis, Epilepsy, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, the diseases of Children, &c. All the birth and most of the sufferings of child birth are removed by any confinement.
Remember, that the Doctor does not promise to cure all stages of Diseases, While all diseases are curable, if taken in season, all stages are not. Your case may be curable this week, not next—to-day, not to-morrow, hence the danger of delay. sept17-b243d&w1y

FASHIONABLE RESORTS.—Gentlemen and their families would do well to spend their summer trips to the North, for a few months' sojourn at some of the many fashionable places, to bear in mind that their medicine chest needs an addition, without which it would be incomplete. We refer to the justly celebrated HUNYADI OIL of Prof. Chas. De Gruth. We say celebrated, for the very reason that it performs in most cases what it is intended for,— Bruises, Sprains, Swellings, Cuts, Burns, Scalds, Toothache, Ear-ache, Headache, Corns, Scrofula, Erysipelas, Sores and Felon, internal and external.
Certificates continually come in; a number have been received this week, and I enumerate a few of the complaints cured:
Ask Mr. Watkins, of Lynchburg, if Charles De Grath's Hunyadi Oil did not cure him of Rheumatism and sprains received from a fall.
Ask Rev. Mr. Caldwell if it did not relieve him of a severe cough and pains in the breast in one night.
Ask Mr. Weed, of Buchanan, if it did not cure him of swelled glands in the throat in fifteen minutes, when the doctors said he would die in a short time.
Ask Mrs. Argyle if it did not relieve her of the headaches in fifteen minutes.
Ask Mr. Blackford, of Lynchburg, if it did not cure her of headache in fifteen minutes.
This Oil is mild, pleasant and harmless—its properties are all for good—children should have it given to them for teething and for croup. Beware of base imitators professing to make Electric Oil. They know nothing of its manufacture, their only aim being to get money! Look out! Beware! The genuine is made at the old establishment, 80 South Eighth street, Philadelphia; not removed as advertised by a base scamp. Name on the wrapper and blown in the bottle.
Druggists and others must address their orders to Professor Charles De Grath, at his long established store No. 80 South Eighth street, a few doors below Chestnut.
For sale by Bosworth & Sons, H. Baker, Milwaukee; Fahnestock & Davis, and Reed & Co., Chicago; and by Druggists and Merchants generally throughout the country. oct14-d1w1w

G. SANBORN,
SOLE PROPRIETOR AND MANUFACTURER OF PURE OHIO
Catawba Brandy.
THIS Brandy has been manufactured for several years from the pure juice of the Catawba Grape, thus affording additional evidence, of the progress of American enterprise and industry, and of our ability to produce articles at home, equal to those made by any other nation.
The Pure Catawba Brandy, not only equals but excels the best imported Brandies, in purity and flavor. It is in fact the best Brandy known. This statement is fully corroborated by the certificates of our most distinguished physicians, given below.
The want of pure brandy has long been felt in this country, and the introduction of an article of such quality as to supersede the sale and use of those vile compounds hitherto sold under the name of brandy, can only be regarded a great public good. The Catawba Brandy poses all the good qualities claimed for the best imported liquors, and is of perfect purity and superiori Every, and a sovereign and sure remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Cramp, Colic, Languor, Low Spirits, General Debility, &c.

WHEAT—We quote No. 1 spring 75@75c, No. 2 do 69@ 65c, extra 80@83c, and white winter 90@95c—extra grades are scarce, and a brisk competition exists amongst millers. Some choice samples sold at an advance of 2 to 3c on our quotations, but inasmuch as it is caused by a mere local demand and is not reliable, we do not change our figures.

FLOUR—Quiet and rather lower. Spring extra country brands nominal at $4,87@4,50, winter $4,75@5,25. Sales of 100 bbls extra winter to-day on private terms.

FEED—Nominal at 4½c for wheat to Buffalo and 5c to Oswego.

BARLEY—The range is 60@70c for common to choice lots. There is a fair demand amongst brewers for extra samples, but inferior grades are quite dull.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION,

PHILADELPHIA.

A Benevolent Institution established by Special Endowment for the Relief of the Sick and Distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic Diseases.

IN times of Epidemics, it is the object of this Institution to furnish Medical Attendants to prowl the Streets, Physicians, Clothing, Food, Medicines, &c, for the sick and destitute, to take charge of the orphans of deceased parents, and to minister in every possible way to the relief of the afflicted, and to the best interests of the public at large. It is the duty of the Directors, at such times, to visit personally the infected districts, and to provide and appoint a number of Physicians.

Numerous physicians, not citing members of the Association, usually serve gratuitously on its books, subject to be called upon to attend its hospitals, free of charge.

In the absence of epidemics, the Directors have authorized the Consulting Surgeon to give advice and medical aid to persons suffering under CHRONIC DISEASES of a virulent character, arising from abuse of the sexual powers, mal treatment, the effects of drugs, &c. &c.

Various REPORTS and TRACTS on the nature and treatment of Chronic Diseases, by the Consulting Surgeon, have been published for gratuitous distribution, and will be sent FREE OF CHARGE to the afflicted.

Address, for reports or treatment, Dr. GEORGE R. CALDWELL, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association. No 2 South Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

By order of the Directors

GRAIN CLEANER & SEPARATOR

HORTON'S PATENT

G. B. BINGHAM & BRO.,

Sole Manufacturers in Wisconsin.

THIS MACHINE is of recent invention, and surpasses all others in use for its perfections as a thorough Separator and Scourer. It has given entire satisfaction in New York, Pennsylvania and other States where it has been introduced, and is considered by all to be better adapted to the cleaning of Western grain than any other ever introduced into this State. It is fire proof, cutlishable to get out of repair, requires but little power to run it, and is not liable to clog. The construction of it does render it unnecessary to be renewed for years. We respectfully invite all Western Millers to give us a call, and examine our machine, at the Bay State Foundry, Florida st. Milwaukee, Wis. feb16d3m6dly

NEW FAMILY SEWING MACHINES

Latest Improvement—Watson's Patent.

THE MANUFACTURER and Agent desire to call the attention of the public to the newly improved sewing machine, and now, since the great improvements which have been added to it, recommend it with the utmost confidence, as it has been in operation in this city a sufficient length of time to prove its reliability. These machines are made strong and durable, and with one-fourth part of the care required to manage a higher priced machine. They will do as much work, and as well as the most expensive. Each machine is thoroughly tested before it is sold, and warranted to give satisfaction, if the instructions are followed with even an ordinary amount of care, and will be kept in order one year free of charge.

Price of improved machine, complete, (including stand,) $25. Persons wishing to purchase a machine are invited to call and test their work with them and test the machine to their entire satisfaction, before purchasing.
